1 Legislation

What legislation is applicable to bankruptcies and reorganisations?

In Thailand we have the Bankruptcy Act BE 2483 (AD 1940), as amended (BA), as the law governing bankruptcy matters. In the BA, there are also sections which directly deal with reorganisation matters. In addition, bankruptcy and reorganisation procedural matters will be stipulated in the BA; the Establishment of and Procedure for Bankruptcy Court Act BE 2542 (AD 1999) (EPB); and Regulations for Bankruptcy Cases BE 2549 (AD 2006).

2 Excluded entities

What entities are excluded from general bankruptcy proceedings and what legislation applies to them?

According to section 7 of the BA, the Thai court of jurisdiction may order that an insolvent debtor be declared bankrupt if such debtor is domiciled in Thailand or operates its business in Thailand within one year prior to the date that such debtor files for bankruptcy. In addition, section 9 of the BA specifies that an entity can file for bankruptcy if certain conditions are met. The requirements for an entity to file for bankruptcy are mostly the same except that a juristic person is required to have indebtedness with one or more creditors of not less than 2 million baht in total. Therefore, an entity, including a foreign entity, who meets the above requirements may be declared bankrupt by Thai court.

However, currently in reorganisation proceedings, only a debtor who is a limited company or public limited company can file for or be subject to involuntary reorganisation under the BA in accordance with the definition of debtor under section 90/1 of the BA.

3 Secured lending and credit (immovables)

What principal types of security are taken on immovable (real) property?

Under Thai law, a mortgage is the only security which can be taken on immovable (real) property.

4 Secured lending and credit (moveables)

What principal types of security are taken on moveable (personal) property?

Under Thai law, in general practice, pledge and retention are the securities which can be taken on moveable (personal) property. Under section 6 of the BA, secured creditor means 'the creditor holding rights over the asset of the debtor in a mortgage, pledge or a right of retention, or a creditor possessing preferential rights in the nature of a pledge.' However, there is currently no precedent case to define the creditors of the same nature as a pledgee. Therefore, it can be deemed that pledge and retention are currently the principal types of security taken on moveable (personal) property.

5 Unsecured credit

What remedies are available to unsecured creditors? Are the processes difficult or time-consuming? Are pre-judgment attachments available? Do any special procedures apply to foreign creditors?

In bankruptcy and reorganisation proceedings, since unsecured creditors do not have any right over the assets to be enforced for their sole benefit, the only means therefore available for unsecured creditors to obtain the repayment of debts lies with their rights to file an application for the repayment of debt. Subject to section 90/27 and section 91 of the BA, unsecured creditors are entitled to file an application for repayment of debt in both bankruptcy and reorganisation proceedings.

The procedure to prove the validity of such an application for the repayment of debt is not complicated. Still, the duration of these proceedings may vary depending on the case's complications and the availability of the court's docket. Practically, it would take up to three months for the official receiver to consider and make an order on the application for the repayment of debt.

There are measures provided under Thai law which prevent the debtor's transfer of assets. In bankruptcy proceedings, temporary receivership is available under section 17 of the BA and an interim injunction under section 254 of Civil Procedure Code is also applicable mutatis mutandis by virtue of section 14 of the EPB prior to the rendering of the court's absolute receivership order.

With regard to the application for the repayment of debt, there is no special procedure applied to foreign creditors as Thai law does not differentiate the debt repayment application process between Thai and foreign creditors. In bankruptcy proceedings, a creditor in a foreign country can file an application for the repayment of debt within four months from the publication of an absolute receivership order while the creditor in Thailand is limited to a two-month period for filing the same application.

6 Courts

What courts are involved in the bankruptcy process? Are there restrictions on the matters that the courts may deal with?

The Central Bankruptcy Court, Regional Bankruptcy Court and Supreme Court, Bankruptcy Division, are the specialised courts which have jurisdiction to adjudicate the bankruptcy and reorganisation matters.

In bankruptcy and reorganisation proceedings, we have two levels of court. On the first level, we have the Central Bankruptcy Court and Regional Bankruptcy Court which are the courts of first instance. Any appeal to either the judgment or order (or both) thereof can be made directly to Supreme Court, Bankruptcy Division.

7 Voluntary liquidations

What are the requirements for a debtor commencing a voluntary liquidation and what are the effects?

Thai law does not allow voluntary bankruptcy to be commenced by the debtor.

8 Involuntary liquidations

What are the requirements for creditors placing a debtor in involuntary liquidation and what are the effects?

Under section 9 of the BA, a creditor is eligible to file for bankruptcy against a debtor.

To be able to file for bankruptcy against a debtor, the insolvent debtor shall be proved to be indebted to one or more creditors in the amount of not less than 1 million baht in total if an individual; and shall be proved to be indebted to one or more creditors in the amount of not less than 2 million baht in total if an entity.

9 Voluntary reorganisations

What are the requirements for a debtor commencing a financial reorganisation and what are the effects?

The insolvent debtor owing a definite amount of debt to one or more creditors in an amount not less than 10 million baht is entitled to file a reorganisation petition in accordance with section 90/4 of the BA. Once the reorganisation petition is accepted by the court, certain activities involving the assets of the debtor will be subject to section 90/12 of the BA. (Please see further details in question 15.)

10 Involuntary reorganisations

What are the requirements for creditors commencing an involuntary reorganisation and what are the effects?

A single creditor, group of creditors, or the state agency authorised to supervise the business of the debtor as described in the BA, may file a reorganisation petition against the insolvent debtor if such insolvent debtor has a definite amount of debt of not less than 10 million baht. Once the reorganisation petition is accepted by the court, certain activities involving the assets of the debtor will be subject to section 90/12 of the BA. (Please see further details in question 15.)

11 Mandatory commencement of insolvency proceedings

Are companies required to commence insolvency proceedings in particular circumstances? If proceedings are not commenced, what liabilities can result?

There is no Thai law which requires the directors to commence bankruptcy and reorganisation proceedings. Nevertheless, the board of directors has a duty to call for an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders when the company is significantly at loss. If they fail to do so, each director might be held criminally liable with a penalty not exceeding 20,000 baht under the Act on Offences Concerning Registered Partnerships, Limited Partnerships, Limited Companies, Associations and Foundations BE 2499 (AD 1956).

12 Doing business in reorganisations

Under what conditions can the debtor carry on business during a reorganisation? What conditions apply to the use of assets and to creditors who supply goods or services after the filing? What are the roles of the creditors and the court in supervising the debtor's business activities?

The debtor is allowed to continue operating its normal business operation during a reorganisation pursuant to section 90/12 (9) of the BA. The debtor's assets can not be sold except in the normal course of business unless such sale of assets is approved by the court. The debtor is allowed to make payment to creditors who supply goods or services according to normal and current terms and conditions of agreements. Any claims arising after the court's reorganisation order will not be subject to reorganisation proceedings, and if the debtor has incurred such obligations in the normal course of business and as required for the continuation of its operation, the debtor can pay such claims.

The creditors and the court have roles in supervising the debtor's business activities as the creditors are entitled to file the petition requesting the court to revoke any transaction in breach of section 90/12 (9).

If the creditors approve the business reorganisation plan, they can be represented by the creditor committee to be selected at the creditors' meeting. The creditor committee will supervise the implementation of the plan by the plan administrator.

13 Rejection and disclaimer of contracts in reorganisations

Can a debtor undergoing a reorganisation reject or disclaim an unfavourable contract? Are there contracts that may not be rejected? What procedure is followed to reject a contract and what is the effect of rejection on the other party?

Under section 90/41 bis of the BA, only the plan administrator shall have the power to reject an unfavourable contract as specified in the reorganisation plan. The rejection right shall be exercised within two months from the date the court approves the plan. Whoever suffers damages therefrom shall have the right to file an objection with the court within 14 days after becoming aware of such rejection. If the court reaffirms the rejection, whoever suffers damages therefrom shall be entitled to apply for the repayment of debt for such damages under reorganisation proceedings.

14 Sale of assets

In reorganisations and liquidations, what provisions apply to the sale of specific assets out of the ordinary course of business and to the sale of the entire business of the debtor? Does the purchaser acquire the assets 'free and clear' of claims or do some liabilities pass with the assets? In practice, does your system allow for 'stalking horse' bids in sale procedures and does your system permit credit bidding in sales?

In bankruptcy proceedings, under section 24 of the BA, after the rendering of the court's receivership order, the debtor is prohibited from engaging in any activity involving his assets, including sale of the assets. The official receiver is the only person permitted under the BA to sell the assets of the debtor. The sale of the assets shall be conducted through auction or other selling methods, proved to be the most convenient and for the best interests of all creditors as stipulated in section 123 of the BA.

The claims and liabilities can be passed with assets depending on the terms and conditions of the sale.

In reorganisation proceedings, under section 90/12(9) of the BA, the debtor is also prohibited to sell the assets out of the ordinary course of business throughout the process, unless it is provided otherwise in the plan approved by the court.

We have no 'stalking horse' bids and no credit bidding specifically prescribed under Thai law.

15 Stays of proceedings and moratoria

What prohibitions against the continuation of legal proceedings or the enforcement of claims by creditors apply in liquidations and reorganisations? In what circumstances may creditors obtain relief from such prohibitions?

We have proceedings similar to the stay (automatic stay) as stipulated in section 90/12 of the BA. Automatic stay permits the debtor to continue to conduct business during the implementation of reorganisation proceedings by suspending existing lawsuits brought by creditors and prohibiting civil claims or actions to be filed against the debtor. Creditors may seek permission from the bankruptcy court to file claims.

The BA does not specifically provide for the application of automatic stay in a bankruptcy case. The pending case involving assets of the debtor under bankruptcy proceedings may be suspended at the court's discretion.

16 Arbitration processes in bankruptcy

How frequently is arbitration used in insolvency proceedings? What limitations are there on the availability of arbitration in insolvency cases? Will the court allow arbitration proceedings to continue after an insolvency case is opened?

Bankruptcy and reorganisation proceedings shall be initiated and shall proceed in the court, not in arbitration proceedings.

Under the BA, all creditors, including the creditors who initiate the bankruptcy of the debtor, cannot initiate a new case against the debtor in court after the court renders the absolute receivership order. However, the BA does not specifically prohibit arbitration proceedings.

In reorganisation proceedings, all actions against the debtor are put on stay and the creditors are prohibited from initiating arbitration or court proceedings against the debtor unless such prohibition of arbitration or court proceedings is not necessary for reorganisation proceedings.

17 Set-off and netting

To what extent are creditors able to exercise rights of set-off or netting in a liquidation or in a reorganisation? Can creditors be deprived of the right of set-off either temporarily or permanently?

In bankruptcy proceedings, under section 102 of the BA, if a creditor who is entitled to claim for repayment of his debt is indebted to the debtor when the court issues the order placing the asset under receivership, even if the grounds for the indebtedness of the two parties are not the same, or are subject to the conditions or terms, such debts may be set off against each other, unless the creditor's right of claim against the debtor accrued after the order of receivership of the asset.

In reorganisation proceedings, under section 90/33, if the creditor who is entitled to apply for repayment of debt for reorganisation is indebted to the debtor at the time of issuance of the reorganisation order, such creditor may exercise the right of set-off, unless the creditor acquires the claim against the debtor after the court issues a reorganisation order.

18 Intellectual property assets in insolvencies

May an IP licensor or owner terminate the debtor's right to use it when an insolvency case is opened? To what extent may an insolvency administrator continue to use IP rights granted under an agreement with the debtor? May an insolvency representative terminate a debtor's agreement with a licensor or owner and continue to use the IP for the benefit of the estate?

There is no specific provision under the BA which prescribes the termination of IP usage or the extent of IP usage during the bankruptcy and reorganisation proceedings. Accordingly, the termination of IP usage or the extent of IP usage is governed by the terms of the agreement between the licensor and the licensee.

There is no provision under the BA prescribing the right to use the IP after the termination of the IP agreement.

19 Post-filing credit

May a debtor in a liquidation or reorganisation obtain secured or unsecured loans or credit? What priority is given to such loans or credit?

In bankruptcy proceedings, when the court has ordered the debtor to go under receivership, it is prohibited for the debtor to do any act relating to his asset, or his business, except such act that shall be done by order or approval of the court, the official receiver, the administrator of the asset, or of a creditors' meeting (as the case may be) as prescribed in the BA. Accordingly, the debtor is prohibited from incurring any additional debt, otherwise, the transaction in breach shall be void.

In reorganisation proceedings, the debtor is prohibited from undertaking certain activities during the term of automatic stay, such as incurring additional debt that is not done during the normal course of business, whether secured or unsecured. Automatic stay becomes effective on the date the court issues an order accepting the reorganisation petition.

20 Successful reorganisations

What features are mandatory in a reorganisation plan? How are creditors classified for purposes of a plan and how is the plan approved? Can a reorganisation plan release non-debtor parties from liability, and, if so, in what circumstances?

Under section 90/42 of BA, the reorganisation plan must contain at least the following significant features: the reasons for reorganising the business; details of assets, liabilities and encumbrance; and principles and methods for reorganisation, etc.

The reorganisation plan must be approved by resolution of the creditors' meeting. The BA provides a voting system whereby creditors are, according to section 90/42 bis, divided into the following groups or classes:

- secured creditors having a secured debt of not less than 15 per cent of the total debt for which a claim for repayment may be filed in the reorganisation shall be classed as one group. Other remaining secured creditors shall be classified in the same group;
- unsecured creditors may be classified in different groups. Unsecured creditors who hold the same or similar rights or benefits will be classified in the same group; and
- creditors that, under the law or a contract, are entitled to receive payment only after other creditors have received payments in full.

The reorganisation plan must be approved by:

- special resolutions of the meetings of all groups of creditors, or
- a special resolution of the meeting of at least one group of creditors which is not a group of creditors that is deemed to have attended and voted to approve the reorganisation plan, provided that the aggregate amount of debt of creditors of all groups who voted to approve the reorganisation plan constitutes not less than 50 per cent of the total debt held by creditors of all groups who attended the meetings in person or by proxies and voted at the respective meetings.

In addition, the creditors' approval of the reorganisation plan must be confirmed by the relevant court. The reorganisation plan confirmed by the court will bind both creditors that are not required to submit proofs of claims and those that must submit proofs of claims.

Practically, the reorganisation plan may contain the clause to release non-debtor parties from any liability arising out of the implementation of the plan. Nevertheless, any specification to limit the liability of non-debtor parties shall not relieve them from the liability arising out of the wrongful act or gross negligence. Meanwhile, the reorganisation plan cannot release non-debtor parties from any liability arising prior to the reorganisation.

21 Expedited reorganisations

Do procedures exist for expedited reorganisations?

There is no expedited reorganisation under Thai law but, in practice, the debtor can reduce the time-consuming nature of certain stages of the reorganisation by having major creditors agree on the principles of the reorganisation plan prior to application for undergoing the reorganisation.

22 Unsuccessful reorganisations

How is a proposed reorganisation defeated and what is the effect of the plan not being approved? What if the debtor fails to perform a plan?

If the reorganisation plan is not approved by the creditors or is approved by the creditors but not confirmed by the court, the court will then cancel the reorganisation order.

If the reorganisation is not successfully implemented in accordance with the reorganisation plan and the maximum period prescribed under the BA has elapsed, the court will either render an absolute receivership order if the court deems that the debtor should be declared bankrupt, or render the order to terminate the reorganisation.

23 Bankruptcy processes

During a bankruptcy case, what notices are given to creditors? What meetings are held? How are meetings called? What information regarding the administration of the estate, its assets and the claims against it is available to creditors or creditors' committees? What are insolvency administrators' reporting obligations? May creditors pursue the estate's remedies against third parties?

In bankruptcy proceedings there are the following significant notices to be given to creditors:

- notice to convene the first creditors' meeting;
- notice to convene the creditors' meeting for the composition prior to or after being declared bankrupt; and
- notice of the court hearing for the consideration of the composition.

Certain information will be available to creditors or creditors' committees, eg, details of the composition and details of the debtor's estate and business. The official receiver has the duty to report to the court on the administration of the debtor's asset and the conduct of the bankrupt person.

Under Thai law, the estate is included in the assets of debtor. And only the official receiver is empowered by the BA to pursue the estate's remedies (rights to claim repayment or demand the delivery of asset) against third parties.

24 Creditor representation

What committees can be formed and what powers or responsibilities do they have? How are they selected and appointed? May they retain advisers and how are their expenses funded?

In bankruptcy proceedings, under section 37 of the BA, the creditors' meeting may pass a resolution to appoint a committee of creditors in the matter relating to the management of the debtor's assets as prescribed in the BA.

In reorganisation proceedings, under section 90/55 of the BA, the creditors' meeting may pass a resolution to appoint a committee of creditors to act on behalf of all creditors in monitoring the implementation of the plan. In practice, the plan may specify that the proper expenses be paid to the advisers of creditors. There are cases where the court approved the reorganisation plan which contained the payment of proper expenses to the advisers of creditors.

25 Insolvency of corporate groups

In insolvency proceedings involving a corporate group, are the proceedings by the parent and its subsidiaries combined for administrative purposes? May the assets and liabilities of the companies be pooled for distribution purposes? May assets be transferred from an administration in your country to an administration in another country?

Under Thai law, there is no procedure for combining the parent company and its subsidiaries, thus, none of the assets and liabilities can be pooled for distribution purposes. The assets are not allowed under Thai law to be transferred from an administration in Thailand to an administration in foreign country.

26 Modifying creditors' rights

May the court change the rank of a creditor's claim? If so, what are the grounds for doing so and how frequently does this occur?

Under the BA, the court is unable to change the rank (priority) of a creditor's claim prescribed in the BA.

27 Enforcement of estate's rights

If the insolvency administrator has no assets to pursue a claim, may the creditors pursue the estate's remedies? If so, to whom do the fruits of the remedies belong?

In bankruptcy proceedings, the official receiver is empowered by the BA to pursue the estate's remedies (rights to claim repayment or demand the delivery of asset) against third parties.

In reorganisation proceedings, under section 90/38 of the BA, the planner, the plan administrator or the official receiver is entitled to submit the petition requesting the court to compel those persons, who admit that they are indebted to the debtor or have assets of the debtor in their possession, to pay the debt or turn over those assets. On the contrary, if such persons do not admit that they are indebted to the debtor or they have assets of the debtor in their possession, the planner or the plan administrator shall notify the official receiver to proceed with any further actions in accordance with section 90/39 of the BA.

28 Claims and appeals

How is a creditor's claim submitted and what are the time limits? How are claims disallowed and how does a creditor appeal? Are there provisions on the transfer of claims? Must transfers be disclosed and are there any restrictions on transferred claims? Can claims for contingent or unliquidated amounts be recognised? How are the amounts of such claims determined?

In bankruptcy proceedings, in general, all creditors must file an application for the repayment of debt with the official receiver within two months of the date on which the court's order appointing the official receiver is published in the government gazette (which period may be extended at the official receiver's discretion, in the event such creditor is domiciled outside Thailand, for a period not exceeding two months). If a creditor fails to file an application for the repayment of debt, except for limited exceptions (ie, tax claims), such creditor will not be entitled to receive its share of the bankruptcy proceeds.

The official receiver shall submit the applications for debt repayment of all creditors along with his opinion to the consideration of the court and whether or not the creditors will be granted the repayment of debt is subject to the court's discretion. If the creditors wish to object to the court's order, they may appeal it to the Supreme Court, Bankruptcy Division.

There is no specific provision under the BA which prescribes the transfer of claims. The transfer of the claims is possible but subject to the discretion of the official receiver. The permitted transfer of the claims shall be disclosed to the official receiver.

In reorganisation, all creditors must file the application for the repayment of debt within one month of the publication of the order for the appointment of the planner in the government gazette. If a creditor fails to file the application for the repayment of debt, it will not be entitled to receive payment under the plan and has no further recourse against the debtor, unless the reorganisation plan provides otherwise, or the court cancels the reorganisation order.

In reorganisation proceedings, the official receiver has a duty to approve the application for the repayment of debt, including the contingent or unliquidated amounts. Such contingent or unliquidated amounts shall be determined by the official receiver based on evidence and the creditor's proof of claim. An interested person may appeal the decision of the official receiver to the consideration of the relevant court within 14 days.

In general, the transfer of claims in reorganisation proceedings is subject to the discretion of the official receiver or the court depending on the stage of the consideration of the application for the repayment of debt.

29 Priority claims

Apart from employee-related claims, what are the major privileged and priority claims in liquidations and reorganisations? Which have priority over secured creditors?

Under Thai law, secured debt has priority over unsecured debt. For unsecured debt, repayment will be distributed in the following order:

- expenses of administering the debtor's estate;
- expenses incurred by the receiver in managing the debtor's assets;
- funeral expenses of a deceased debtor appropriate to his status;
- fees incurred in collecting assets;
- fees of the petitioning creditor and his counsel's fee, as the court or the receiver may prescribe;
- taxes which have become due for payment within the six months prior to the order for receivership; and
- other debts.

30 Employment-related liabilities in restructurings

What employee claims arise where employees are terminated during a restructuring or liquidation? What are the procedures for termination?

Normal employee claims, eg, severance pay, will arise if the employment is terminated during the reorganisation proceeding. The procedure for termination during the reorganisation proceeding shall then be in accordance with Thai labour law. The number of employees being terminated during the reorganisation or the cessation of the business operation is not cause under Thai law for increasing claims. Also, the employee pension plan or scheme does not have any priority in the bankruptcy or reorganisation proceeding in Thailand.

31 Liabilities that survive insolvency proceedings

Do any liabilities of a debtor survive an insolvency or a reorganisation?

In bankruptcy proceedings, the liabilities of the debtor will survive in two cases: discharge from and termination of the bankruptcy.

In the case of discharge from the bankruptcy, there are two types of discharge: discharge from bankruptcy according to the court's order and discharge from bankruptcy after the lapsing of a three-year period as prescribed in the BA. An order of discharge from bankruptcy will not relieve the debtor from the debts relating to tax or land tax of the government or municipality and the debts which have arisen through the dishonesty or fraud of the bankrupt, or debts for which creditors have not filed claims owing to dishonesty or fraud to which the bankrupt person is a party.

If the bankruptcy is terminated by the court due to the creditors' failure to cooperate with the official receiver or the debtor should not be declared bankrupt, the debtor shall not be adjudicated bankrupt and the debtor will not be relieved from his liabilities.

In reorganisation proceedings, the debts which occurred prior to the rendering of the court's reorganisation order, which have been applied for the repayment of debt, will be released after the implementation of the plan. After the rendering of the order to terminate the reorganisation, the debtor shall be freed from all debt repayment which could be applied for in reorganisation proceedings. However, if the court revokes the reorganisation proceedings, all remaining debts which have not yet been paid shall remain.

32 Distributions

How and when are distributions made to creditors in liquidations and reorganisations?

In bankruptcy proceedings, once the assets of the debtor are sold, the distribution will be made to the creditors who are granted the court's final order to receive the repayment of debt.

In reorganisation proceedings, distributions will be made according to the reorganisation plan approved by the court.

33 Transactions that may be annulled

What transactions can be annulled or set aside in liquidations and reorganisations and what are the grounds? What is the result of a transaction being annulled?

Under the BA, transfers involving assets of a reorganised company can be voided by court order.

Upon the written petition of the planner, a plan administrator or the official receiver, the court may order the cancellation of and void the following transfers:

- a transfer of assets or transactions (or both) involving assets of the debtor carried out with the debtor's knowledge that it will prejudice creditors (except in the event the relevant beneficiary is not aware that such act or transaction would prejudice the debtor's creditors) (fraudulent transfer); or
- a transfer of the debtor's assets that intentionally provides preference to one or more of its creditors over other creditors, which is made in the three-month period prior to the commencement of proceedings under the BA or, in the event the creditors granted such preference are the debtor's insiders, within one year prior to the commencement of such proceedings (preferential transfer).

The BA provides that the following events, both in bankruptcy and reorganisation, invoke the presumption that the debtor and the beneficiary are aware that such a transfer or act would prejudice the debtor's creditors, and thus is a fraudulent transfer: the relevant transfer or act was made within one year before the filing of a bankruptcy petition or reorganisation petition, as the case may be; or the transfer was gratuitous or a transfer from which the debtor received an unreasonably small amount.

34 Proceedings to annul transactions

Does your country use the concept of a 'suspect period' in determining whether to annul a transaction by an insolvent debtor? May voidable transactions be attacked by creditors or only by a liquidator or trustee? May they be attacked in a reorganisation or a suspension of payments or only in a liquidation?

Please see question 33.

35 Directors and officers

Are corporate officers and directors liable for their corporation's obligations? Are they liable for pre-bankruptcy actions by their companies? Can they be subject to sanctions for other reasons?

Under Thai law, the liability of the directors and officers is separate from the liability of the company.

36 Creditors' enforcement

Are there processes by which some or all of the assets of a business may be seized outside of court proceedings? How are these processes carried out?

No, there is no process by which some or all of the assets of a business may be seized outside of court proceedings. However, the secured creditors naturally have rights over the assets which security affords them by the debtor prior to the order of receivership of such debtor's asset, and need not file a claim for a repayment of debt, provided that the secured creditor must allow the official receiver to inspect such an asset.

37 Corporate procedures

Are there corporate procedures for the liquidation or dissolution of a corporation? How do such processes contrast with bankruptcy proceedings?

The liquidation of the company is governed by the Civil and Commercial Code (CCC) and the BA. If the company wishes to enter the liquidation in a normal situation, the company must call a shareholders' meeting and appoint the liquidator to settle the affairs of the company to pay its debt and distribute its assets. In addition, under section 1266 of CCC and section 88 of the BA, if the liquidator of the company finds that after the whole of the contributions or shares has been paid up, the assets are insufficient to meet the liabilities, they must apply at once to the court to have the company declared bankrupt.

38 Conclusion of case

How are liquidation and reorganisation cases formally concluded?

Bankruptcy proceedings are concluded according to section 133 of the BA. Once the official receiver has made the final distribution of the assets of the debtor, or has ceased to take action under a composition, or when the debtor has no distributable asset, the receiver may make a report of the business and accounts of receipts and expenditures in the action for submission to the court and ask the court to order closure of the action.

Reorganisation proceedings will be concluded according to section 90/70 of the BA if the debtor's executive, plan administrator, interim plan administrator, or the official receiver, as the case may be, finds the reorganisation of the business has been successfully completed pursuant to the plan, he shall promptly report this to the court and request the court to order the termination of the reorganisation. If the court views that the company has successfully implemented the plan, the court will render the order to terminate the reorganisation.

39 International cases

What recognition or relief is available concerning an insolvency proceeding in another country? How are foreign creditors dealt with in liquidations and reorganisations? Are foreign judgments or orders recognised and in what circumstances? Is your country a signatory to a treaty on international insolvency or on the recognition of foreign judgments? Has the UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency been adopted or is it under consideration in your country?

With respect to insolvency proceedings, Thailand uses the territoriality principle (as opposed to the universality principle). Foreign judgments or orders with respect to insolvency proceeding in another country are not recognised under Thai law. Under section 178 of the BA, foreign creditors who are domiciled outside the kingdom can claim for repayment of debts in the bankruptcy action upon their compliance with certain conditions. Thailand is not a signatory to a treaty on international insolvency or on the recognition of foreign judgments. Thailand has not adopted the UNCITRAL Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency.

40 Cross-border cooperation

Does your country's system allow cooperation between domestic and foreign courts and domestic and foreign insolvency administrators in cross-border insolvencies and restructurings?

Cross-border cooperation is not provided for under Thai law.

41 Cross-border insolvency protocols and joint court hearings

In cross-border cases, have the courts in your country entered into cross-border insolvency protocols or other arrangements to coordinate proceedings with courts in other countries? Have courts in your country communicated or held joint hearings with courts in other countries in cross-border cases? If so, with which other countries?

Cross-border insolvency protocols and joint court hearings are not provided for under Thai law.
